

Republican Ticket.

NATIONAL. FOR PRESIDENT, HON. JAMES G. BLAINE, of Maine. FOR VICE PRESIDENT, GEN. JOHN A. LOGAN, of Illinois.

STATE. CONGRESS-SAT-LARGE. GEN'L E. S. OSBORNE, of Luzerne County.

COUNTY. Congress, A. C. WHITE, of Jefferson County. Assembly, PETER BERRY, of Howe.

Associate Judge, LEWIS ARNER, of Kingsley. Prothonotary &c., CURTIS M. SHAWKEY, of Tionesta.

Sheriff, LEONARD AGNEW, of Howe. County Commissioners, J. R. CHADWICK, of Tionesta. GEO. W. OSGOOD, of Kingsley.

County Auditors, Q. JAMIESON, of Tionesta Twp. JAMES A. SCOTT, of Jenks. Jury Commissioner, HENRY O. DAVIS, of Tionesta.

CLEVELAND might utilize his veto of the five cent fare bill in his letter of acceptance.

GEN'L LOGAN's protective tariff utterances are gall and wormwood to the Cleveland free traders.

AH, to be sure. All the English newspapers are for Cleveland, because they desire to see free trade flourish.

THE Democracy are not smiling today. The failure of the mugwumps to endorse Cleveland does not please them.

BLAINE and Logan are ploughing up the backs of the Democrats and sowing the wounds with red pepper. Hence the squirming.

THE failure of the Independent Convention in New York last week has set the teeth of the Democratic editor on edge and soured his stomach.

THE Prohibitionists have placed their Presidential candidates in the field. They are John P. St. John of Kansas, for President, and William Daniel of Maryland, for Vice President.

If the colored vote is voluntarily given to the Democratic party in any of the Southern States, the Norristown Herald would like to know why no colored delegates were sent to the National Convention.

THE Democratic organs are all getting even with Theodore Roosevelt for coming out for Blaine. They all call him "Tad." It is confidently believed in Democratic circles that this will smash Mr. Roosevelt.

MR. CLEVELAND should have remembered that it is one thing to be boosted into axalted station by an accident, and another to stay there by his merits, and that the newspaper made character of reformer must pass through a crucial test when the calcium light of public opinion is turned on him, when demanding further advancement. Day by day he is becoming better known, and he does not increase in public estimation in proportion.

MR. CODMAN, the president of the Mugwump's conference in New York last week said, "it is just as possible for us to support Mr. Blaine as it is to lie or steal." To judge from some of the statements made by himself and others, and the assertions contained in their declaration, we should say that it is a thousand fold harder for them to support Blaine than to lie, for they do the latter with a refreshing and airy abandon that cannot be matched on earth.

THE Independents have been slavering over Mr. Roosevelt ever since the Chicago convention and boasting how he was to be a great man among them, if he would only betray his principles and become one of them. He declines their blandishments says he will support Blaine, and now there is weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth. The New York Evening Post with salt tears running down its nose, and its mouth twisted into agonizing misery, calls him a crank and a nuisance. "Oh! Roosevelt, Roosevelt, how can you treat them so.

THE selection of vote buyer, Burnum with his unsavory record, as Chairman of the Democratic National Committee has angered and disgusted the mugwumps and their organs. The New York Times condemns the selection in unmeasured terms, and assures Democrats that "mule buying, forged letters, and similar devices may easily check the rising tide of popular favor" for their candidates among the "too good" element. If the "too good" element can stick to the Democratic party through a Presidential campaign, even by holding their noses and shutting their eyes, it will be one of the curiosities of the age. Evidently the number will be small before the ides of November bring their chilling frosts to blast the hopes of the "better element in politics."

"HUMPH! solloquized Gen. Hancock, "the superb," glancing at the first page of his daily paper: "Here's a portrait of Cleveland and under it the legend 'Victory Assured!' I have a vague recollection of some such inscription appearing under my portrait four years ago. And if I am not mistaken the victory was assured to the other fellow.

THE workingmen are flocking to the standard of Blaine and Logan. They know they cannot expect any sympathy from Cleveland.

PRESIDENT SEELYE's stomach is not quite as strong as that of Carl Schurz. He went to the Independent meeting expecting to join, but when he found that part of the programme was the mastication of a dish of Democracy, his stomach revolted at the nauseous dose. Schurz expects his to be seasoned with "$250 a night." If he is disappointed, what a mess he will make of it!

THAT patriotic American, the London Daily News, is greatly distressed over the misfortune to this country of Blaine's nomination and consequent election to the Presidency. It says: "The Republicans in nominating Mr. Blaine fell back into the old rut out of which General Garfield had endeavored to lift them." We fancy we have heard something like this before, and it is very true from a British standpoint. The idea of felling back putting to work the very man who was Garfield's chief adviser in the movement, which started us forward, is very English indeed; and would hardly be comprehended by any American minds but those which so brilliantly distinguished themselves at the mugwump conference last week in New York. We are sorry for the London News, but the British are not leading public opinion in America this year, and it is wasting its patriotism and sympathy.

HENRY WARD BEECHER is for Free Trade and Grover Cleveland. This is the same Mr. Beecher who but a few years ago declared that bread and water were good enough food and a dollar a day good enough pay for any laboring man.

IN 1880 Henry Ward Beecher said that the Democratic party was so corrupt that a decent man "would sooner be found in bed with a rotten dead man than with that party." Yet four years finds Mr. Beecher comfortably tucked up in bed with the mass of corruption he so graphically portrayed in his pulpit in November, 1880. Such is the eccentricity of genius. Mr. Beecher is an eloquent preacher, but a poor political leader.—Phila. Press.

GEORGE WILLIAM CURTIS in his address says: "No position taken by one platform is seriously traversed by the other." Does George think that the ability to read is confined to his little clique, or that a good strong lie such as is contained in that statement will be meekly swallowed because he utters it? George will learn something new this fall.

CHAIRMAN PLYMPTON, of the Massachusetts Democratic State Central Committee, will resign his position. He is reported by Democrats to hold the opinion that Blaine will carry the State by 30,000 majority.

THE letter of Blaine has given rise to such a demand for it, that beside its publication by all the Republican papers in the country, the New York Tribune has printed it and Logan's letter in campaign document form, and is sending them out on orders by thousands. No political paper in modern times has so completely met the popular approval.

THE first state elections to occur before the presidential elections this year will be those of Alabama and Kentucky, first Monday in August; then Vermont and Arkansas, first Tuesday in September; then Maine, second Monday in September; then Georgia, first Wednesday in October, then Ohio and West Virginia, second Tuesday in October. The presidential election in all the states will occur November 4.

THE Catholic Universe, of Cleveland, Ohio, says that unless Grover Cleveland meets the charges made against his moral character the Democratic party must meet them by demanding his immediate withdrawal from the head of the ticket.

THE New York Irish Nation heads its leader "Down with Cleveland," and says: "Irishmen of spirit have no choice. Cleveland must be defeated, and the only way to do that effectually is by voting for James G. Blaine for president." This looks like business.—Blizard.

ALECK M'CLURE is to take the stump for Cleveland. Another similarity between this and the campaign of 1872, when the pugnacious Colonel stamped the state effectively for Greeley and Buckalew. Result thirty-five thousand majority for Hartranft and 137,728 for Grant. No doubt his work will be as effective this year.

IF Cleveland had a little more record and Hendricks a little less, it would be a stronger ticket. But the Democratic party would be still just what Mr. Curtis calls it, "a conspiracy against human freedom" trying to "sneak into power as a conspiracy for plunder and spoils."—Phila. Bulletin.

A Confederate Parson.

We were handed the following item clipped from the Venango Citizen, of last week, by S. D. Irwin Esq., who was in the battle of Jenkins' Ferry, April 30, 1864, and who is familiar with the incident as related by Confederate prisoners at the time; it forcibly illustrates the difference between theory and practice:

Among the first Confederate troops that went out from Arkansas was Parson Greesmore, who enlisted as a Chaplain. He was a devout Christian, and his prayers were regarded by the men as utterances from a higher power. Just before the battle of Jenkins' Ferry the old man, in a sermon, said:

"My dear boys I have decided to go into the next fight with you. I don't think a man can properly preach about the evils and sensations of war unless he has experienced the feeling of going into battle. Now, the fighting in which we engage shall have me numbered among its participants."

The old gentleman rode a large gray horse, and when preparations for the battle of Jenkins' Ferry were being made he appeared on his snowy charger. Some of the officers begged him to keep out of danger, but with an expression of heroism he replied that he would engage in the battle. The first artillery fire from the enemy shot the horse from under the old gentleman, and by the time he settled himself on his feet a bullet came along and took off one of his fingers. He attempted to be calm, but just then a ball carried away the right thumb, and, whirling around the old man struck a determined trot for the rear.

"Hold on, Parson!" called some one. "Hold on, h—ll!" he replied. "Ask a man to hold on, when the whole d—n universe is shooting at him. Take care of your body, and the Lord will take care of your soul."

A Dangerous Counterfeit.

There are dangerous counterfeits in circulation purporting to be "Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer." The strongest evidence of its great value is the fact that parties knowing its great efficacy try to imitate it. Each bottle of the genuine has a fac simile of a walnut leaf-blown in the glass; and a Green Leaf on the outside wrapper. The "Restorer" is as harmless as water, while it possesses all the properties necessary to restore life vigor, growth and color to the hair. Purchase only from responsible parties. Ask your druggist for it. Each bottle warranted. JOHNSTON, HOLLOWAY & Co., Philadelphia, and HALL & RUCKEL, New York, wholesale agents.

D. LANGELL'S ASTHMA AND CATARRH REMEDY. Having struggled 20 years between life and death with Asthma or Phthisis, treated by eminent physicians, and receiving no benefit, I was compelled during the last five years of my illness to sit on my chair day and night gasping for breath, my suffering was beyond description.

In despair I experimented on myself by compounding roots and herbs and inhaling the medicine thus obtained. I fortunately discovered this Wonderful Cure for Asthma and Catarrh, warranted to relieve the most stubborn case of Asthma in five minutes, so that the patient can lie down to rest and sleep comfortably. Please read the following condensed extracts:

Mrs. W. T. Brown, Monroe, Texas, writes: "I suffered with Asthma 30 years. Your great remedy has completely cured me. Publish this for the benefit of the afflicted."

C. S. Clark, Wakarusa, O., writes: "I certainly believe your remedy to be the best Asthma and Catarrh cure in the world. I have tried everything else, and all failed but yours. I wish your words success."

C. A. Hall, Bashaw, Wis., writes: "I received your trial package and find invaluable, doing just what you claim for it. It is truly a God-send to humanity. No one can afford to do without it, who is suffering with Asthma or Catarrh."
